Dear....

Thank you for your last letter letting me know you had reached the city. I understand why you felt you had to leave home. It was hard for you because...

I also know that there were a lot of factors pulling you to the city, like...

But I have some great news! Since you've been gone I have joined Apicoop and am now selling Fairtrade honey. Have you ever heard of fair trade? It's...

But now we have fair trade, you don't need to leave home. It's changed everything because...

I look forward to hearing from you, and seeing you home soon,

From,
